PRESS RELEASE

For Release: February 10, 2010

Sight & Sound Productions Acquires Mugwump Productions, Inc.

Jacksonville, Florida – Sight & Sound Productions acquired Mugwump Productions, Inc., in an agreement finalized February 1, 2010. Both companies are privately owned and based in Jacksonville.

Sight & Sound Productions provides audiovisual technology and technical support for Florida First Coast hotels, resorts, meeting sites, and convention centers. Established in 1987, Sight & Sound Productions also designs and executes events, meetings, and tradeshow throughout the U.S.

Mugwump has for 16 years designed and produced themed environments and events for individuals, businesses and organizations throughout Florida and southern Georgia. It's best known for its striking, custom-made fiberglass props and sculptures.

"We're in complementary businesses," says Jon B. Davis, president and owner of Sight & Sound Productions, "and we've collaborated successfully several times in the past. Combining our resources and talents means we can deliver the most sophisticated meeting and event technology and unique theme elements in the entire region."

Sight & Sound Productions is retaining all Mugwump staff and will continue to run the Event Design and Production operations from the established Mugwump location.

Sight & Sound Productions has continued to add capacity and grow steadily even in a down economy. In 2009, Sight & Sound Productions bought the assets of Communicate Media Technologies and JPG Sound, and key assets from other sound and production companies in the Jacksonville area. According to the Business Journal's 2009 Book of Lists, Sight & Sound Productions is the fifth largest audiovisual production company in Jacksonville, with $3.5 million in revenue.
